

The number of broadcast media stations have to be limited to prevent a monopoly of ideas and ideologies. Control of many venues means the control of ideas and information and we need more information, not less.